Year 7 News

Friday 8th December 2017

Dear Year 7 Students

Congratulations, we have completed our first term together at Brakenhale. We have learnt the school layout and the route to the canteen and HOY office for lost property. You are all masters of your own planner, tools for learning, school bag full of subject books, PE kit with or without the help of a locker. We have been learning to work with our tutors from the messages from assemblies and PSHE to engage in whole school policies, in particular we have been encouraging the spread of kindness with the use of good manners which can make a difference to anyone.

Our attendance for the year group took a slight dip but 7K achieved 98%. Well done to 7K! Let us see if we can all make it for the last week of term and hit a glorious 100%. On Tuesday the homework club in the LRC will be running. Ensure you get all your homework done so you don't get any last minute detentions. If you need help with homework, come and join us in the LRC. Remember it is your responsibility to get a parent or guardian to sign your planner once a week.

Over the holidays, are you helping adults in the community? These are ideas from others in previous years; singing carols at an old people's home; helping serve at a community kitchen; gift wrapping presents for charity. Could this be something that could count towards your Pixl Edge challenge?

We have PSHE on Wednesday 13th, period 2 with visitors to school. Our last reminders are that on Friday we have normal lessons Period 1, so bring your textbook and school bag as normal. Then we will be in tutor with a break time. The time is to be confirmed for the two KS assemblies to be held in the Sports Hall, so listen out to messages from your tutors. The school closes at 12:05! The school reopens for a normal timetable on the Wednesday 3rd January 2018.

Have a great weekend and see you all on Monday for the last week of 2017.

Regards
